FAKTA

At bruge 0,7 procent af BNI på udviklingsbistand er FN's officielle målsætning og en aftale som Danmark indgik i 70'erne og som bannerfører har levet op til i over 45 år

A photograph of a destroyed building with rubble and people in the background. The scene shows significant structural damage, with concrete blocks and debris scattered around. Several people are visible, some standing on the remaining structure and others amidst the rubble. The overall atmosphere is one of devastation and the aftermath of a disaster.

FAKTA

0,7 procent er en internationalt anerkendt bundlinje for, hvad rige lande bør bidrage med.

Når vi lever op til den, giver det os troværdighed i multilaterale fora og i partnerskaber med udviklingslande.

The background image shows a scene of significant destruction. A large concrete structure, possibly a wall or part of a building, has collapsed, leaving a large pile of rubble in the foreground. In the background, several people are visible, some standing on the remaining parts of the structure. The sky is a clear, pale blue. A green rectangular box is overlaid on the left side of the image, containing the word 'FAKTA' in white capital letters.

FAKTA

Multilaterale institutioner er en del af den infrastruktur, der beskytter vores økonomiske og sikkerhedspolitiske interesser, og for et lille land som Danmark er udviklingssamarbejdet en vigtig del af vores globale strategiske interessevaretagelse.
